Cops in cowboy hats

Standing tall in his new cowboy hat, Deputy William Neyhart strolls across the prairie on a call near Deer Trail June 24. The Arapahoe County Sheriff's Office recently altered its policy to allow officers to wear hats on patrol. The last time deputies could wear hats was in the late 1970s and early 1980s. The hats, which can also be ball caps, are voluntary and deputies have to buy their own. Neyhart's hat is a black wool Stetson from the Stallion Collection. He patrols in Precinct 8 in the eastern part of the county and is assigned to Bennett.

Agate School wins $394K BEST grant

by Kathy Smiley Staff Writer

AGATE – Agate School District 300 will receive a state grant to partially fund gym roof and heating, ventilation and air conditioning improvements.

The district is on the prioritized list of projects slated to receive financial assistance through the Colorado Department of Education's 2024-25 Building Excellent Schools Today (BEST) grants. The state will fund approximately $394,000 of the $856,660 project.

The Agate School Board June 24 approved a resolution to authorize the use of a portion of the district's 2024-25 general fund beginning fund balance in the amount of $463,000 for the required match. Part of the resolution states that the use of the beginning fund balance will not lead to an ongoing deficit.

was often heard saying if she could get paid to go to school, she would have. Neva met the love of her life, Darrel Iseli, while working at the grocery store in Bennett. They quickly became inseparable and were married on June 9, 1973, and shared 51 wonderful years together. They welcomed their first child, Eric James, into this world, Sept. 1, 1980, followed by Anne Elizabeth on Dec. 18, 1985, and Todd Lee on Feb. 28, 1987. The family was now complete, and they lived happily in the house they built. Neva stayed home with her children until Todd started school full time, and then she started substitute teaching. She soon got a full-time position at Strasburg Elementary and continued working there until she retired in 2017. Neva loved spending time in the mountains, especially at their cabin at Red Feather Lakes where she loved to camp, fish, and read. She was also very crafty and enjoyed various crafting activities. Neva happily welcomed their first grandchild, Lucas James, into the world on Sept. 2, 2017, followed a few years later by their granddaughter, Karlee Ann, on March 29, 2020. Neva and Darrel moved to Fleming, Colo., to be close to grandchildren in 2022. The grandchildren were the light of her eyes. She loved them unconditionally, and they could do no wrong. Neva was a wonderful grandma, and she never missed a chance to get something for the kids. She loved going to watch their games, school programs, and recitals. They were her world. Neva is preceded in death by her parents and her daughter Anne. She is survived by her husband, Darrel Iseli; sons Eric Iseli and Todd Iseli; daughter-in-law, Sueann Iseli; brother, Wade Thornburg; sister-in-law, Amy Thornburg; nephew, Chris (Corey) Thornburg; and niece, Kelsey (Will) Fischer.

The annual Department of Defense Ham Radio Field Day was held June 22 at Star Haven Observatory at the home of astronomer Jim Moravec in Strasburg. The field day is the national radio communications emergency preparedness test, which happens across the United States and Canada between June 21-23 each year. Its purpose is to test emergency radio systems that provide communications during local, state, national and international crises and to prepare operators to give assistance in time of disaster. THANK YOU STRASBURG! Deep appreciation for students, staff, parents, grandparents, business owners, ranchers, commuters, non-profits, local and county agencies, farmers, supporters, nay-sayers, professional colleagues, steadfast challengers, and the school board for the honor of serving as your Superintendent of Schools the past two years.

It takes a strong community to thoughtfully support and proactively push for a better future of ALL students. Sincerely grateful for what this community has taught me and my family. Certainly now well versed in humbleness, servitude, resilience in the face of adversity, the commuter mindset, generational context and respect, the understanding of a growing diverse community, the rural way, balanced reasoning, positivity outperforms negativity, and listening (and I mean really listening).

Your support, kindness, passion, and commitments have made my time as Superintendent of Schools a very rewarding experience. I am a better professional AND person due to my time here in Strasburg and with the school district.

I conservatively estimate to have worked with hundreds of principals, tens of thousands of staff, attended over one hundred graduations, and supported more than one hundred thousand students over my career. This creates a wide ranging lens of perspective in public education. Please know this, the PK-12 students in Strasburg are some of the finest I have encountered over a 30-year career in education. Motivated, caring, persevering, and smart. Good students, great people for OUR future.

Forever a Strasburgian, STRAS-er, or BURG-er! Never did figure this one out. Suppose I will always be an Indian!

Health, prosperity, and happiness to ALL!

THE NOT-SO DUSTY PAGES

20 YEARS AGO

JULY 6, 2004

Arapahoe County commissioners have agreed to pay $170,000 to settle legal claims that sprang from Tracy Baker's tenure as county clerk and recorder.

The claims from five county workers included allegations that Baker's romance with Leesa Sale, his assistant chief deputy, created a hostile work environment. Baker was recalled in February, and Sale left county employment in mid-March.

Of the 117 employees in Baker's office, more than 30 originally petitioned the county, stating that they felt Baker and Sale had created a hostile work environment in the clerk's office.

15 YEARS AGO JULY 7, 2009

BENNETT – The installation of photovoltaic solar panels is the latest of many steps the Rangeview Library District has taken toward making its Bennett branch "green."

A $75,000 2008 Colorado Department of Local Affairs (DOLA) grant enabled the district to put in the panels, which convert sunlight into energy and will provide 13.6 kilowatts of power to the building. Bennett's latest green addition is just one of many environmentally conscious features the facility boasts. Constructors used recommendations from the U.S. Green Building Council to help ensure environmentally friendly building practices, including the installation of a geothermal heating system that uses the relatively constant temperature of the earth to heat and cool buildings using 40% to 70% less energy than conventional systems.

The district is pioneering the use of beetle-killed pine in the ceiling and paneling. Patrons looking skyward will see light coming in through Solatubes.

10 YEARS AGO JULY 8, 2014

BENNETT – There will be no "changing of the guard" in the near future for the town of Bennett as its mayor was not voted off the board of trustees during a July 1 recall election.

Mayor Sue Horn received almost the double the number of votes compared to those cast against her. The final tally showed 241 votes against the recall while 121 residents voted to remove her from her post. Of the voters in favor of the recall, 120 checked Joyce Buessing for mayor, but that ballot question became a moot point.

"I really would like to thank all those who supported me during the recall election. It's because of that support we were successful," Horn said July 2. While I would have liked no one voting in favor of the recall, it was still a fairly substantial margin in our favor and, [one person texted me that], the president, congressional. Members and the governor would all kill for a 67% approval rating, so, I think, things went pretty well.

ARAPAHOE COUNTY NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING CASE NO UASI23-002, SECRET STASH OIL & GAS PIPELINE EXPANSION / USE BY SPECIAL REVIEW WITH 1041 PERMIT

PROPOSAL: The applicant, Tenderfoot Pipeline Company, on behalf of the State Land Board, property owner, requests to extend an existing oil and gas pipeline by 5.10 miles from the existing Secret Stash Well Pad to the previously permitted Tenderfoot Pipeline project. The purpose of the project is to transport natural gas and oil, and in the future, water, produced from the Secret Stash well pad operated by the applicant's parent company, GMT Exploration Company, LLC. The pipeline easement is intended to allow for installation of a produced water line, and above-ground freshwater lines in the future, all within a 50-foot-wide permanent easement. The pipeline expansion will be located within 49.26 acres in unincorporated Arapahoe County, adjacent to County Line Road and Michael Gates Drive, Sections 35 and 36 in Township 5 South, Range 65 West and Sections 31-33 in Township 5 South, Range 64 West.

Pork loin roast is a budget friendly cut of meat. Look for a small plump roast that fits in your slow cooker. The teriyaki sauce adds a flavorful punch! Serve it over rice with a side of Asian vegetables. The juices can be interchanged with apple, orange or pineapple as desired. Any fruit juice makes a tasty sauce. I have tried them all and every time this roast comes out tender and full of flavor. The only juice I wouldn't recommend is grape. Roast with a purple juice, sugar, soy sauce, vinegar, glaze just doesn't seem right!

TERIYAKI PORK ROAST INGREDIENTS

- 1 cup apple juice
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 3 tablespoons soy sauce
- 1 tablespoon white vinegar
- 1 teaspoon ground ginger
- ¹/₂ teaspoon garlic salt
- ¹/₂ teaspoon pepper
- 1 (3-pound) boneless pork loin roast, halved
- 1 cup cornstarch
- 1 cup orange juice
- 1 cup water

DIRECTIONS

Grease slow cooker. Add apple ginger, garlic salt, pepper. Mix well.

Add roast. Immerse in sauce. Cover. Cook on high heat setting for 2 hours. Reduce heat to low and continue cooking another 3-4 hours until meat is fork tender.

Remove pork to platter. Keep warm. Skim fat from juices. Combine cornstarch, orange juice, water until smooth. Stir in crock pot.

Cook on high heat setting until thickened. Or add juices and slurry to saucepan and cook until thickened. Slice roast and serve with the saucy gravy.

Harvest Open House slated to introduce MCC FarmBox

FORT MORGAN – Morgan Community College invites the community to a Harvest Open House to celebrate the launch of MCC's FarmBox from 9-11 a.m., Thursday, July 11, in Poplar Hall on the Fort Morgan campus.

The event will feature a firsthand look at the FarmBox's state-ofthe-art technology, an innovative farming initiative to promote sustainable agriculture.

MCC's FarmBox redefines farmmaximize growth and minimize energy and water use. Housed in an efficient box the size of a traditional trucking container, the FarmBox utilizes full spectrum lighting (LED lighting to mimics sunlight) to help plants grow faster and healthier, maximize growth rates, and enhance higher nutrient density. It includes separate water tanks and advanced filters to create an ideal environment for through a U.S. Department of Edplants to thrive, free from mold ucation Title III STEM grant. and other threats.
